I like it the way it is right now

Remove Hard to Moderate role, stop siding with people that are in the wrong.

Horrible level of discourse, very rarely or ever on topic. You've got a bunch of kids, mixed with strange adults and the topics get way too personal all the time. The amount of people openly hostile to the space still sticking around and spreading negativity doesn't help

I would leave gender ideologies aside. Anything you say against their personal opinion, and they label you a NAZI. It's disastrous and annoying.

More lutgen tbh

Idk

Forum style for showcase, so that good recent posts don't get buried under new ones.

A few annoying toxic mfs

Feet pics thread

its fine

I think smth like user guides threads

Can't say anything since I'm not on discord

Yuri Thread

Keeping everything on topic (it rarely is!), completely removing unoriginal posts / half-assed changes to someone else's dotfiles (changing the wallpaper or colourscheme)

Some people are rude for no reason, they are always negative for some reason, like their whole purpose of their life is to just comment negatives and be absolutely rude. You should do something about them. Constructive criticism is good but being rude with no actual reason is really shitty.

Not be woke as fuck and banning everyone who shares a different opinion on things.

I don't really care about ricing im just here to yap

Is already peak ILY @mods

im fine with what it is now

please make it so that a phone number is not required, the server is read-only for me since I don't want to give Discord my phone number ban round-corners; stop worrying about things getting off-topic, it stifles discussion.

live stream competition

better showcase channel via posts rather than chats as chats are not properly suited for it

uhh probably ban stolen dots from showcase

Mods shouldn't post or encourage political discussion in a desktop customization server :)

Unsure

Generally not a fan of discord - it makes finding and following old/archived discussions difficult, and discovery is bad.

Active moderation, most of the mod team isn't even actively participating in the server apart from 2 mods.

Maybe it needs a feedback channel for constructive criticism only? Ricing-theming is usually off topic and honestly kinda rude at times.

I am not sure

Repentance and learning from mistakes improves the server, even for bad mods, if they learn from their errors. Server need a gateway like OpenSUSE Server Discord, or MyServer to protect against spams.

bot verification

As i had talks publicly on the server, it feels important to either have the post of the month more transparent or to change the amount of posts that get visibility. This input is probably too small so i'll be open to discuss and share ideas in a more elaborated way if i get reached out :pray:

more talking in the lounge fr fr we need more talking in the lounge idk whats happening in the other channels tho

There are times when I feel like people should just be muted for a few days, they are mostly talking about their opinions but they sometimes say stuff that is just objectively wrong and are actively misinforming people wether they realize it or not needs more elkowar.

stricter filtering on low-effort posts. also, apparently unpopular opinion, but stricter moderation of nsfw anime girl rices

Ban Indians

Just having mods in chat more often would help reduce bigotry

A channel which is like showcase, but for posts that gather e.g. 5+ hearts to gilter hyprslop. Also, please ban neifua

o

no comment

make showcase a forum, makes it easier to sort,

Are there any subreddit rules or practices you find unclear or confusing?

109 responses

No

no

No.

nope

Nope

Nah

AI used for ricing instead of the user built rice

No, I find everything clear.

With the new "Shell Dev Kit" it's hard to know what we post when we even dev be our own shell

yes plenty

The rules are fine, but the ideology is starting to kill the subreddit.

No its pretty okay really

Nope.

No, the moderation is good

no. Only issue is that sometimes it feels weird if other people see I'm browsing a sub named porn

Everything is pretty clear

Rule 3 - No Defaults

No there are not

Reddit mods are tards

not quite, tbh they feel surprisingly polished and make posts very clear and useful

Nope it's clear at least for me

Ni idea

Many interesting posts are deleted by the mods whitout a reason

Nope!

The defaults portion. What's considered a default? A fresh install of Gnome or some highly customized Hyprland config with a different wallpaper?

not really :))

none, all seemed right

I remember it being overly rule-heavy, just let people post and votes dictate. You are just looking for busy-work.

Try enforcing the no defaults rule.

no.

I don't like to have a "score" to post

Angry birds star wars 2

No, but it would be nice if "No defaults" also extended to people using others dots and only really changing the wallpaper.

Posted from Firefox my desktop screenshot and never got past the bot because of embedded image rule

Why must you have karma to post? it's really annoying, I can't share my kde dots which are pretty cool

No, you guys are doing great.

I am not sure, because I haven't read it yet

none (i don't engage with the subreddit)

never read the subreddit rules wouldnt no

The no preconfigured setups rule.

The upload requirements, something like the format of the post, and some rules

don't post/comment

No, everything clear

#4 Material Posts Must Provide a Unique Functionality. – When I'm reading the word "material", software is not what comes to mind. I'm thinking colourschemes, themes, icon packs, wallpapers and such. The materials you need to assemble the aesthetics of a rice, not the software that enables the setup's workflow. But themes, icons, colours etc. don't really have "functionality" besides being artwork.They're just things that look good. Perhaps there should be a clarification for what actually constitutes "material" per the rules.

Have never read rules of a single sub 👍

What kind of questions can be posted on the sub, or would it rather be commented on the weekly workshop

The rule that the setup has to be different from the standard might be a bit vague, but overall it's understandable

Nope all clear

Rule 4

WHY DO I NEED 500 POST KARMA

Mods incorrectly removing posts

Have you ever had one or more of your posts removed on the subreddit? If so, could you resolve the issue?

98 responses

No

N/A

Nope

I haven't posted anything on there yet. So, I can't evaluate on this.

Had a rice post removed because of no window variety title isn't correct format or smth

Never had any problems.

Yes and I repost with fixes

no

Several times, mostly for stupid reasons. Sometimes I reposted it, and other times I simply didn't post it again.

Because only terminal(my bad)

i don't think so

Nope.

Yes and yes

Nah

I had a post removed for rule 3 which made no sense and being unfair. I know that posting something that might not look original or stem from original files shouldnt be posted, however what is more troublesome, is my post getting removed which was original due to whatever reason or jealousy of my hardware shown on fastfetch, while another user posted a rice that was 100% from other dotfiles or an install script. No I was not able to resolve the issue because I didn't even bother to resolve the issue. Your Reddit moderators are to be discussed with about this, I've heard of many friends that had similar experiences. Either a moderator being jealous of ones high end hardware, or an original rice getting removed meanwhile another person with 0 changes to someones dotfiles gets to live on. Posting "its my first rice" and sparing them for it aint making it more fair. Either change or remove rule 3 entirely or just take a good look at who you have for moderators.

I created a fetch script designed to be as bad as possible that got removed

Yes

Yes one of my post got removed but tbh idc enough to look into it

Yes and no.

I did not post ever in this subreddit so i dont know

Yes one time but yeah I get the reason

Changing the karma requiement

Yes, but low karmas can be increased by interacting so maybe I'll do more of it, if I'm in the mood

No.

Yes, and no.

none

yes, because of not enough karma. I resolved it.

Yes, I forgot to add another different window, whoops.

the lego batman videogame

Never posted to begin with.

Yes, I forgot to actually put the wm in the title.

Yes, no I couldn’t resolve the issue.

yes, I forgot to add the [WM/DE] tag.

Never posted

Also no

Yes, not enough unique windows open.

yes (not enough karma), yes (stella helped me with it)

Yes, and the issue was resolved

Yes, because my rice was looking like the default plasma but with the dock transparent, the post was accepted

havent posted yet

Yes. A nostalgia post (riced RockBox) was removed, I understood why. A just because (Minix 3) post was removed. It was stated it was removed because it didn't show workflow. Everything was in a terminal, but it did show web browsing, top, cmatrix, and a custom fetch. I thought that could have been allowed, but again I understood why.

Yes, mod mistakes

I've never had a post removed

What features or changes would improve your experience on the r/unixporn subreddit?

111 responses

idk

Make no defaults even more strict. That's why I don't post - neither I nor I assume most other people want to see default GNOME with the only customised program being emacs

Ability to add multiple tags for easier filtering

Remove the window variety rule, it's kind of annoying for someone who only uses a terminal less posts of non-unique rices. f.e. omarchy or vanilla plasma

Ban Hyperland setups.

a better way to search or filter through posts, also guides on how to make custom widgets will be nice

Stop requiring karmas to post

N/A

My experience is good. It's still reddit, so I don't think there is much to be done.

less anime nonsense

I need you to STOP posting the same “rices” without any changes. It's ridiculous that you only change the wallpaper and everyone uses the same crap: hyprland + noctalia/dms/caelestia. Niri + dms/noctalia/caelestia. Hyprland + end-4, etc.

all my problems are reddit related tbh the sub itself is decent enough moving all the default "i installed gnome/hyprland/dms/end4" posts to r/unixsoftcore

Hyprdong GONE! Also I'm kind of getting sick of "windows but it's Linux?!??" And "macOS on Linux cuz I'm too poor to buy a real mac"

I want to see more of unique wm rice, such as river, ctwm, custom wm and etc :)

Remove low effort posts (e.g. standard WM/DE with a theme applied)

Nothing, it works well for me.

No changes, keep it the same

It's perfect

A moderator check, because there are more people posting with copied dotfiles without changes than you could think, yet those with original rice's that just don't look all to special get removed.

None

At the moment, most people just rate wallpapers here for some reason. I think we need a rule where you need to post atleast one picture with no wallpaper, or from a small collection of „community default" backgrounds.

This trend of posting transparent windows with a transparent panel needs to stop, everybody can choose a nice picture from wallhaven, but creating an actual rice is difficult.

Also, I think all the windows and mac clones need to be removed just like the defaults.

Its perfect the way that it is

It's pretty good already.

Maybe a better guide. When I was new, I couldn't find a proper guide. Luckily, I'm pretty tech literate so I learnt most of the basics in a month. But I feel like other users who aren't as tech literate would find it pretty hard to learn how to rice.

An example is a friend of mine who had just started using Linux. I showed him my setup and he said it was insane, until I showed him all the dotfiles and he was kinda overwhelmed. I did guide him anyway and he's pretty good at making rices now.

having a flair if youre copying someones dotfiles and haven't changed much (for eg: if its a rice thats based on omarchy and looks similar, it will have an omarchy flair)

Filter the freaks

limit the amount of hyprland posts haha (jokes aside, good work on the subreddit)

I think that "No Defaults" should be enforced even more especially regarding stups based on desktop "shells" such as Noctalia or DankMaterialShell. I consider unfinished but highly unique and personalized rices more interesting and fun than a generic but well polished, efficient and great looking one.

It would be nice if guys on the sub at least post 3 to 4 screenshots of their setup/ricing I know it's there in the rule but some guys just forget it

new stuff

No lo se

Again, changing the karma requiement.

Yuri Server

Hard to say. One thing I have noticed is many posts to me look more or less the same, especially if you look at posts for the same DE/WM. A lot of so-called rices are simply color customizations with btop, neofetch and cava terminal windows open. It gets stale after a while, which is one reason why I stopped browsing the subreddit as often. Not sure what can be done about this, unfortunately. If the rules are too strict, then that would reduce the subreddit's traffic too much. But if they're too lax, then you get pretty much the same types of post on repeat. Not sure where the middle ground is, how to get to it.

Tags for sub-categories / types of rice (retro, moe, modern, minimalist, Win9x-inspired, OSX-inspired, etc.)

Less focus on the same rices over and over and more unique ideas being shared

Less strict rules

It doesn't matter, I like this subreddit

Tags for WM and DE.

Nothing really

My usability issues are with Reddit itself, but I'd rather use Reddit than Discord.

Not sure the best way to encourage it, but I'd love to see more (and more detailed) detail comments!

None, everything is fine.

Possibly limiting the rice update posts. Eg: added XY color scheme to my rice, changed the launcher, switched to XYZ browser, added redundant widget #123 to my rice etc.

I'm fine with everything you have right now, can't add more

Perhaps a wiki that details the most commonly used applications for customization for each DE/WM, with links to their GitHub/docs and perhaps some example configs. Could be community sourced.

i think it's good enough

I post elsewhere, so who cares.

I want to see a special project that belongs to the community (maybe a DE, WM or a piece of software to navigate throw the members dotfiles , tweaks etc..
Regards :).

Less anime and pre-made widgets.

Regulate prebuilt shells and desktop environments more. Might just be a personal experience but a lot of the recent posts have been really close to default configurations, therefor kinda ruining the purpose of the subreddit.

Seperate quickshell flair (or [SHELL] type of prefix) for unique shells. Shells generally support multiple compositors and people may came here and look just only for other new shells around here.

Not at all.

eays ways to post and don't have a rigit score to post

Nil

Maybe add thematical contests for people to rice and show

nothing

removal of all evo cards in clash royale

Banning the use of GenAI "art" that is so prevalent on people's setups nowadays. Issue warnings and/or take down posts if detected on their screenshots. Plenty of excellent human-made wallpapers out there, no excuse to use an AI generated one and ruin the vibe of the subreddit.

same as what i said about the server

Clamping down on the same-y Hyprland setups + default configs.

Hyprslop ban 👍

Add a megathread for most commonly used/recommended tools. (e.g. Hyprland, Waybar, Rofi, Wofi, Gnome Extensions, oh-my-zsh, ghostty, kitty, etc. etc.)

nfi

Idk

I honestly don't know. Maybe you could do a best themed rice for every major holiday? That would be neat.

Can't think of any right now.

I am not sure

my favorite sub, love this community <3 thanks for your work

Maintaining its own principles without political interference, or not involving itself in nixOS politics here.

Less basic screenshots that just feature anime shit

Conisdering the nature of the server members to frequently change topics on a channel it feels a bit too much for moderators to properly enforce rules such as politics being "exclusive" to off-topic on the discord server. Also the suggestion of changing the way posts get featured("rice of the month") said previously add multiple post of the month like 1-place,2-place,3-place

Seems pretty good as it is for now.

https://preview.redd.it/the-original-image-of-the-monkey-thinking-meme-v0-vewwqeyihbaf1.jpeg?width=687&format=pjpg&auto=webp&s=e21d32a916970ab572bb385ba1978dfd6e0afd9d

Encourage more videos to demonstrate workflow

None

Nothing, it's already beautiful

A tag or original content or some kind of stricter rules on copied posts. Lately there have been just too much slop. Either the same copied setup posted multiple times, or just low effort non-aesthetic screenshots.

No

Take your own rules seriously and stop people from posting default setups. No, your generic Tokyo-night, anime-styled, Hyprland setup isn't good. Your Gnome session with 2 extensions isn't good either. What's the point of a subreddit called "unixporn" if all you do is post the same boring stuff ad-nauseum? it'd be like posting Taco bell food at r/foodporn 24/7. Also why do I have to use Google to answer a simple survey? Stop using literal spyware. Have a nice day.

I like it as it is now

idk dude i lurk hard.

making it a rule to share what the setup is made of even if the poster doesn't provide dotfiles like making it mandatory to share what panel or widget system they used

I don't know.

Host a hackathon

I can't think of anything, I find everything smooth and friendly

More ways to show/find multi monitor rices

More strict enforcement of the "no default configs" rule

Less AI generated backgrounds would be great, but I dont think a rule about what people can have on their setups (except for NSFW material) would be good.

none

A Megathread maybe a tag, so people could post/share tools or configs for specific things, like taskbars, docks, launchers, etc. Today the sub seems to be focused too much on the wallpaper, with stock configs for most part. I like to find new tools, not wallpapers.

Ban slops

It’s not really about moderation, it’s about the wider community, I want to see a bigger variety of desktop aesthetics because I feel like they are all the same flat tiling windows manager setups.

Better documentation and tutorial on ricing for total beginners

Some kind of tutorial showcase for different DEs/WMs/bars/etc. or a beginners guide to ricing.

The subreddit wiki is a joke. Would be nice to have some useful information in there.

Tags for WMs so you can more easily sort instead of searching [i3] for example
